BADLY HURT.

Mrs. Margaret Quin, the aged mother of Mrs. W. G. Goodwin, while visiting at Mr. Jas. R. Shaw's, at Jetts, on Saturday, slipped and fell injuring her hip and wrist. We are glad to know that she is improving.

ELECTED OFFICERS.

The City Council met on Monday night and elected the canons nominees for the various city officers. Mayor Darnell sent in the nominations for the police force, as now existing, and they were confirmed.

WRIT DE LUNATICO INQUIREND.

Stephen Harris, a well known colored man, was tried under a writ de lunatiko inquirendo, on Monday last, and ordered sent to the asylum.

BENSON RUNS OUT.

Owing to the heavy rain of Saturday and Saturday night, Benson creek rose rapidly and the ice ran out on top of that in the river and piled up several feet high clear across the river to the opposite side. It made a queer looking sight and reminded one of the gorges seen here many years ago during some of the hard winters of the past.

WINS OUT.

The Big Bethel Colored Baptist Church, of this city, who have been involved in a suit with the City Council over their right to erect a new church building, on the corner of Clinton and High streets, won out on Saturday last, the Court of Appeals holding the city ordinance forbidding the contemplated building to be unconstitutional.

There is nothing so important in facing severe hot weather as well organized digestive force. When the stomach properly digests nourishment it creates new, rich blood; and fortifies the system against exhaustion. Walther's Peptonized Port, to be found at all drug stores, is an ideal combination of pure, rich port and the best quality of pepsin. It strengthens the weak digestive organs, restores the appetite, builds and tones up the entire system.

For invalids, convalescents and worn out people, there is nothing so beneficial as Walther's Peptonized Port. For sale by J. W. Gayle, Frankfort, Ky. Small size 50 cents, large size $1.00.

FALLS AND ACCIDENTALLY SHOOT HIMSELF.

While Mr. Howard H. Taylor was walking along Clinton street, shortly after 8 o'clock, on Saturday night, he slipped and fell on the icy pavement discharging a gun he had in his pocket, the ball going through the left arm between the elbow and shoulder breaking the bone. Surgical attention was at once rendered, after which Mr. Taylor was taken to his home on Todd street, South Side.

Mr. Taylor is a son of Mr. Colby H. Taylor, of the Forks of Elkhorn, and brother of Mr. Brown Taylor, of this city (in the employ of the K. D. & W. H. Company), and is a young married man. He is an employee of Mr. Geo. H. Stedlin.

Dr. Wallace, his attending physician, says that, without something unforeseen occurs, Mr. Taylor will soon recover.

When in need of pure wines and liquors go to the dealer who handles only pure goods. That place in Frankfort and Franklin county is Geo. B. Salender, 15 St. Clair, opp. Postoffice.

UNUSUAL OCCURRENCE.

Something decidedly out of the usual run of things occurred in our office on Wednesday afternoon. A young couple from Shelby county came here to be married, chaperoned by the bride's mother and Mr. W. B. Moore, of the Jacksonville neighborhood.

Mr. Moore brought the couple to our office and the services of Rev. George Darsie were secured and the happy young people were duly authorized to "trot in double harness" from now on. The following is the simple statement of the pleasing ending of their little romance:

Married—Mr. Estelle Perkins and Miss Jennie Moore were married at the Roundabout Office, on Wednesday afternoon by the Rev. George Darsie, of the Christian Church.

The full force of lady and gentlemen operators were witnesses to the ceremony.

We venture it was the first time a marriage ever took place in a printing office in this city.

AGREEABLE CHANGE.

On Friday night an agreeable change for the better, in the weather set in. While it was blustery and rainy, the moderation in temperature was very acceptable. The rain came down pretty steadily and heavily until 5 o'clock, on Sunday morning, when it turned into a light snow, but by noon of Sunday it had cleared away and the sky Sunday night was thickly studded with stars.

SATURDAY NIGHT'S BLAZE.

Just a moment before 8 o'clock, on Saturday night, an alarm from box 21, called the fire boys to the blacksmith shop of Messrs. Craik & Crutcher, on East Main street, next to the Royal Mills, where a blaze had started around the forge and was burning at a lively rate. It was soon extinguished with only two or three rafters burned out. Loss nominal.

THAT OPENING DANCE.

The Frankfort Orchestra held the inauguration hop of their new Music Hall on Monday night last. It was a decided success and every one who was present enjoyed the evening to the fullest extent, and hoped to have another such soon.

RECOVERING RIGHT ALONG.

We are happy to be able to say that our esteemed friend, Judge George Duffell, has been improving right along ever since he underwent an operation last week, and his physicians think, without some unforeseen accident, that he will soon recover his normal condition. This will be glad news to his many admiring friends in this city.

STAMPING GRO'ND.

Mrs. Dr. Stewart is visiting her sister, Mrs. Goodpastor, at Maysville.

There is a great deal of sickness caused by cold and bad grippe and the doctors are all on the go steadily.

We regret to learn that the venerable Mr. C. E. Duvall (Cude Naylor) is seriously sick at the home of his son-in-law, Mr. R. L. Thompson.

Mr. J. C. Hambrick has sold his crop of tobacco to an Elmville buyer for $1, cents from the ground up. He has 12,000 pounds.

Ice to the thickness of one and five inches was cut and housed by our people during the recent freeze.

Mr. Howard Triplett will move to the residence of Mrs. Lida Adams, on the Tilford farm, about the first of March, having rented it for the next year.

We regret to learn that Rev. T. Wain Beagle, the venerable pastor of the Baptist Church, and good wife, have both been quite sick.

Mr. Claude Beagle, of Louisville, and Mrs. Perry, of Lexington, have been called here to attend upon Rev. Mr. Beagle and wife.

Mrs. Clark (nee Lancaster), aged 29 years, residing near Sedgwick, paralyzed on Sunday last, she is peculiarly unfortunate, as her husband was killed at the lead mines a little over a year ago.

Our town was visited by a fire on Wednesday last, about 2 p. m., when the cottage occupied by Mrs. Laura Lair was destroyed. The greater part of the household effects were

'Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch'

MRS. WIGGS.

Great Promotion Closing Wednesday, Dec. 30.

Everybody who has fallen in love with dear old Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch, and she is now a universal favorite from one end of the nation to the other, will be delighted to see her familiar figure make her footlight bow, in all her amusing, cheerful and deeply human charm, on the stage of the Capital Theatre, of this city, Wednesday evening, Dec. 30. Mrs. Mudge Carr Cook, who is impersonating the lovable old lady, with her quaint sayings and her homely wisdom, in this forthcoming Liebler & Co. production of "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch," seems to have scored a decided triumph in the role, and is said to be an ideal incarnation of this motherly character. Mrs. Anne Crawford Fleuer's dramatization is, according to all reports from the Southern cities where it has already been seen, a thoroughly sympathetic reproduction of Mrs. Alice Hagan Rice's two now classic stories ("Mrs. Wiggs" and "Lovey Mary").

There is, moreover, a serious situation in the play for Mrs. Wiggs, in order to give her a truly dramatic appeal beyond mere character comedy, and this situation is the absolutely original invention of the dramatist. It will turn out, too, the tangled thread to the entire plot, involving Lovey Mary, Tommy and utterly new characters, with increased dramatic interest, in Mrs. Wiggs' own life on the Cabbage Patch. Mrs. Fleuer has practically written, it is declared, a third Mrs. Wiggs story, adding it to the two already existing.

Of course, the central episodes of those two stories run through the play, in spite of all its dramatic novelty. The flight of Lovey Mary from the orphanage with her beloved baby-boy Tommy, furnishes part of the plot, her arrival on the Cabbage Patch occurring in the opening act. While Mrs. Wiggs herself is full of heart interest, the love interest and romantic element centres in Lovey Mary. This unhappy runaway orphan wait, with her sharp tongue and rebellious spirit, is herself quite an unusual creation in fiction, and she is said to have a thoroughly sympathetic stage depiction by Miss Mahel Tallafiero, who has been for several seasons past America's most distinguished child actress. She is just now on that troubling line between girlhood and young womanhood which befalls the role itself of Lovey Mary in the play.

The chief comedy interest of the piece concerns the curious courtship, hasty wedding, and abrupt separation of Miss Hazy and her strangely found "spiritual partner," Mr. Stubbins. Everybody will readily recall this mirth-provoking romance of the Cabbage Patch—how Miss Hazy sent the requisite 25 cents to the mysterious "Astrologer," how "the prominent citizens of Bagdad Junction" subsequently appeared on the scene, how he proved "anything but god-like," and how he unfortunately followed up pumpkin pie with strong drink and fell sadly from grace, making his unique exit in an empty freight into which he was hoisted in maudlin unconsciousness a passing glimpse of this unique matrimonial experimenter. One's curiosity was whetted for more. In the play Mr. Stubbins casts a much larger shadow in the limelight, and as he is impersonated by Mr. William T. Hodge, who won such praise for his work as Freeman Whitmarsh, to gossip-mongering, lovelorn village pulper in "Sag Harbor" (dividing honors with James A. Heine himself) we may believe the reports that he has developed into a strikingly formidable creation of eccentric comedy, second only to Mrs. Wiggs in humorous appeal.

Little Miss Hazy should find a thoroughly sympathetic portrayal in Miss Helen Lowell, who is such an expert depicter of old maids, whose enacting of the spinster-sister to Maude Adams's Phoebe Throssel in "Quality Street," is still vividly remembered. As her wooden-legged nephew, Chris, who was "so handy on his feet," Taylor Granville is expected to repeat the hits scored by him as Widgits in "The Royal Box," and as the Jockey in "The Suburban."

"The way to a man's heart is through his stomach," an old saying that to win a man you must feed him well.

If this is not true, it is still true in another sense that the way to a man's heart is through his stomach. Many persons imagine that they have heart disease when it is only indigestion.

This is how it comes about. The stomach digested by gas, crowds the heart and gives the feeling that the trouble is in the heart.

If you don't know that you have heart trouble, try using Walker's Peppermint Cure and see if it does not relieve you. For sale by J. W. Gayle, Frankfort, Ky.

GEO. A. LEWIS, Editor and Pub.

FRANKFORT, DEC. 26, 1903.

TO OUR PATRONS.

In order to give the faithful employees of the Roundabout an opportunity to enjoy the Christmas Day festivities we send out this issue of our paper one day earlier than usual, closing our forms on Thursday night.

We know that our patrons will accept the lack of any local news of happenings that day for this reason.

THAT STRIKE OUTRAGE.

We believe in the doctrine that "every man has the right to do as he pleases, as long as he obeys the law, and does not infringe upon the rights of any other man." When we read of the outrages that have been permitted and that are existing in the Chicago cabmen's strike, we must come to the conclusion that such anarchistic actions have reached the limit when Christian people are prevented from burying their dead out of their sight by the mobs of strikers that are attempting to rule that city.

It is about time that the strong arm of the law shall intervene and put a stop to such outrages. If the Mayor of Chicago is too cowardly to take these crowds by the throat and throttle the life out of such anarchists, or is too much of a politician to KNOX, when these things occur right under his nose, unless informed by some one else lower in grade of authority, it is time that the Governor of that great State should rise to the occasion. If he, too, can not see anything that might call for action that might lose him or his party a vote, let him stand aside and let C. C. Samuel lead these red-handed ruffians that they can run things in America as they have tried to do in the foreign countries from which they came. "For the good of these countries," and while we have "liberty here, it shall not degenerate into license."

We copy from an exchange a calm and just statement of the "status" that labor occupies, which so well states the case that we give it with pleasure:

RIGHTS OF THE WORKER.

He can join a labor organization if he sees fit to do so.

He can refuse to join a labor organization.

He has a right to labor whether he belongs to a union or not. No employer has a right to refuse a man employment because he does not belong to a labor organization, or because he is a member of a labor organization.

No workman is a good patriot, or loyal citizen who refuses to work with a brother workman, because he is not a member of his union.

An organization which has anything in its constitution, its by-laws, obligations, ritual, secret work or policy, that causes its members to refuse to work with another workman because he does not and will not join said organization, is in enmity with the government of the United States, its Constitution and the very spirit of our free institutions.

Such organization is revolutionary and should be suppressed.

An employer who will not employ a man except he belongs to, or promises to join, one of these revolutionary societies, is not a good citizen, and loves money more than he does his country or its institutions.

An organization of employers that enters into an agreement to employ only members of a labor organization does an illegal act, contrary to the constitution of this country, and together with the labor organization, becomes revolutionary in its character.

Excess

Of Smoking Affected My Heart

So I Had To Sit Up To Breathe.

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure Cured Me.

There is nothing that has a more deleterious effect upon the cardiac or heart nerves than the excessive use of tobacco. Pain and tenderness around the heart, an oppressive feeling in the chest, choking sensations in the throat, discomfort from sleeping on the left side and smothering spells at night when the sufferer has to sit up in bed to breathe are the most common symptoms of a weak heart. Smokers who feel these symptoms and who do not understand their meaning should be warned in time, by the following experience: "I was greatly troubled with an affection of the heart, due I think to excessive smoking. On writing to you for advice I was directed to begin a course of treatment which included Dr. Miles' Heart Cure, Dr. Miles' Nerve and Nerve and Liver Pills, together with taking cod liver oil. I faithfully followed the directions given and am pleased to say that my cure is complete and permanent. Before beginning the use of your remedies I was so nervous I could not keep my hands still and suffered greatly from severe pains around the heart. Many times at night I would be forced to assume a sitting posture to get my breath for the time being would seem as though my heart had stopped beating. From the splendid results achieved by my treatment I can cheerfully recommend Dr. Miles' Heart Cure, Restorative Nerve and other remedies to all sufferers from heart or nervous troubles."—Yours truly, EDGAR HALL, Dothan, Ala.

HARVIELAND.

(Delayed Letter.)

Some one please control the goose here and give us the forecast for this weather. Don't suit our old garb.

There are rumors of three weddings to come off on Christmas eve, at 2 p. m., at three different churches, and everybody is invited. Some of you please change the time of day and we will try and get around.

The storm that passed through here Saturday night last did a great deal of damage to fencing and fodder, and some barns of tobacco were damaged considerably.

Mr. W. M. Golins has gone to vacuinating his cattle after losing several head with black leg.

Mr. Simon Buford, the six-year-old boy, while riding a young horse was so unfortunate as to have the horse rear up and fall back on him bruising him up, but with no serious results.

Mr. James Ellis and wife, of Frankfort, are spending a few days with Mr. Lewis Mitchell and wife.

Mr. Estill Penn, of Eminence, is spending a few days with his uncle, Mr. C. C. Penn.

Mr. W. H. Lewis spent the day with Mr. Thomas Goss Tuesday last.

Mrs. W. B. Hughes is visiting relatives near Peak's Mill.

Mr. Charles Downey made a business trip to Frankfort Wednesday last.

Flossie Bell, the little infant child of B. P. Marshall and wife, died Thursday, Dec. 10, of spinal meningitis, aged fourteen months. Everything was done to relieve the little sufferer that could be done but she passed into rest, where she is now. "Send the little children to come into the land of such is the kingdom of heaven."

There we see a mossy mound.

You have left us, gone forever.

EXHIBITS IN KENTUCKY BUILDING.

The Building Committee of the Kentucky Exhibit Association has decided to abandon the plan of having a model map in the center of the first floor of the Kentucky Building at the World's Fair. In its place there will be installed attractively exhibits of forestry and minerals. These will probably be so built as to pierce the light well of the second floor. They will be in addition to the other exhibits, such as agriculture, education, etc., in other parts of the building.

"WHEN JOHNNY COMES MARCHING HOME."

During the long run that Messrs. Strange and Edwards' popular comic opera, "When Johnny Comes Marching Home," has enjoyed the most remarkable thing is the tremendous enthusiasm aroused by the martial music, and the constant recurrence of patriotic airs that the composer, Mr. Edwards, has deftly interwoven into his score. It has been acknowledged by theatrical as well as newspaper people that no single number of any comic opera or musical comedy that has ever been seen in New York, has created anything like the furor that follows the finale of the second act.

The story of the play is said to be intensely dramatic, and is laid in the year 1865 during the war of the rebellion. The first act opens in the headquarters of the Union General Allen in a spacious barn of a Mississippi plantation. The general's daughter, Cordelia, has a birthday party to which she has invited the Union officers and a bevy of charming Southern belles in silks and satins, made up in the attractive hoop skirt fashion of a generation ago. The heroine of the story is Kate Pemberton, a friend of Cordelia's, and a Southern girl who falls in love with a Union Colonel, who turns out to be the "Johnny" of the story. Kate has a brother, a mere boy, who is all fire for the Southern cause, and he persuades her to aid him in extracting valuable dispatches from General Allen's pocket, which he sends by a Confederate spy to General Lee.

Johnathan Phoenix, a deserter from both armies is taken for this spy by the bay and the papers are entrusted to him. When he finds that the possession of these documents will prove him a spy, he throws them away and "Johnny" picks them up by mistake, thinking the book which contains them to be his own pocketbook. Jonathan knowing he has the telltale papers, denounces him as a spy. "Johnny" thinking his sweetheart and her family implicated, refuses to explain and is condemned to death, but the timely announcement of peace, straightens everything out.

When the women in the story are all fair rebels, who faint the Yankees, and break out into the strains of "Dixie" under the slightest provocation, the men all wear the Northern blue in the slim-waisted, bell-skirted coats and peg-top trousers of the old dress uniform, and are gallant fellows.

Of course love prevails over sectional spirit and scores of matings are imminent. There is martial music galore, marching troops, with their fencers and their strategists, bugle calls, alarms, hurrahs and apostrophes to the Nation's stately banner. There is negro music songs of the slaves, lullabies and break downs. The company is a very large and unusually strong musical organization, and the effects will be seen at the Capital Theatre in the near future.

OUR FRIENDS, THE DRUGGISTS.

STEWART EDWARD WHITE. RESOLUTIONS ADOPTED.

Stewart Edward White, the author of "Conjuror's House" and "The Blazed Trail," comes from Grand Rapids, and has, of course, many friends there who wish him well and follow his success with satisfaction. Mike Dwyer is one of those "good friends" of Mr. White's, and he wishes him well, too, but he hasn't been following Mr. White's line of work very closely. Mike is a professional wrestler, and at one time Mr. White's instructor in athletics. Mike had been elsewhere for a number of years, practicing his "profession," but a month or so ago, dropped into Grand Rapids to see the old town and the old folks. He met Gilbert White, the artist, Stewart's brother, on the street, and immediately inquired after Stewart.

"What's Stewart doing now?" asked Mike.

"Oh, he's mucking books," said Gilbert.

"That's fine," returned the gentleman of the sporting world, "he's getting on, ain't he? Makin' books is he? On what circuit?"—McClure's Magazine.

ONE FARE FOR PASTORS' SUNDAY-SCHOOL INSTITUTE.

The railroads, recognizing the importance of the Pastors' Sunday-School Institute to be held in Louisville, December 15-18, have granted a rate of one fare plus 25 cents for the round trip. All pastors will be entertained, provided their names are sent in by December 10. It is suggested that Sunday-schools send their pastor and pay his way. Considering the magnificent program and splendid array of talent, this ought to bring 100 ministers to Louisville. Eight or ten of the finest religious educators of America, including international workers, college presidents, theological seminary presidents and others will take part in the program.

While this is specifically a Pastors' Institute, all Sunday-school workers of every class are expected. Board can be secured at reasonable rates.

For program and other information address E. A. Fox, 19 Louisville Trust Bldg., Louisville, KY.

W. S. FARMER

FORKS OF ELKHORN.

A merry Christmas to you all.

Mr. Frank Trimble is at home for the holidays—has been at school in Danville, Va.

Mr. John Holton, of Shelbyville, was called here last week by the death of Mrs. Sandy Holton.

Miss Bettie Bowen is home from Corinth, where she has been teaching.

Messrs. Tom Bowen and Weldon South are home from Lexington, where they have been attending school at State College.

Mr. H. D. Benedict, of St. Louis, Mo., was the guest of Miss Carrie Brock last week.

Miss Mae Hockensmith who has been at school at Georgetown, is the guest of her mother and father.

Mr. Howard Jeffers, of Coal Creek, Tenn., is home spending Christmas.

George Brock, Jr., is the guest of friends in Lexington.

Very little amusement is anticipated in our village during the holidays.

Mrs. Sandy Holton died Saturday morning at 7 o'clock, with that dread disease—consumption. She had been married less than a year. She was a devoted Christian and loved by all that knew her. Her circle of friends was very large. She was one that was always thinking of pleasure, or to please others, instead of herself. She was a member of the Christian Church at Frankfort, where the funeral was conducted Sunday, at 2 o'clock, p. m., by Rev. George Dargie. She leaves a brokenhearted husband to mourn her untimely loss; a mother, father and sister, besides a host of relations and friends. We can not understand why this young wife was taken, just when life meant so much to her. But the Lord works in mysterious ways, and does all things for the best. We extend heartfelt sympathy to the bereaved ones.

Misses Stella Hulette and Jessie Pierce, both formerly of Choateville, were the guests of Miss Emile Hamilton, of Benson.

SEA OF AZOF DISAPPEARING.

St. Petersburg, Dec. 10.—The sea of Azof is disappearing and remarkable scenes are in course of action. At Taganrog the waters have receded to such an extent during the last five days that the bed of the sea is visible for a distance of thousands of feet. High winds hurled clouds of sand shoreward, covering the town. Vessels are lying high and dry, and the greatest confusion prevails in the harbor. Work in the factories has had to be reduced to a minimum, owing to lack of water.

A TIMELY SUGGESTION.

This is the season of the year when the prudent and careful housewife replenishes her supply of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is certain to be needed before the winter is over, and results are much more prompt and satisfactory when it is kept at hand and given as soon as the cold is contracted and before it has become settled in the system. In almost every instance a severe cold may be warded off by taking this remedy freely as soon as the first indication of the cold appears. There is no danger in giving it to children for it contains no harmful substance. It is pleasant to take—both adults and children like it. Buy it and you will get the best. It always cures. For sale by all druggists.

GOOD FOR CHILDREN.

The pleasant to take and harmless One Minute Cough Cure gives immediate relief in all cases of Cough, Croup and Laryngitis because it does not pass immediately into the stomach, but takes effect right at the seat of the trouble. It draws out the inflammation, heals and soothes and cures permanently by enabling the lungs to contribute pure life-giving and life-sustaining oxygen to the blood and tissue. Dr. Armstrong of Delta, Tex., prescribes it daily and says there is no better cough remedy made. Sold by J. W. Gayle.

TUESDAY NIGHT'S FIRE.

Old Land Mark Goes Up in Smoke.

At 12:25 on Tuesday night an alarm from box 27 called the department of the old "Welsiger House Stable" (in the alley back of the Capital Hotel) and between the livery stable of Messrs. Noel & McGinnis and the L. & N. depot, which was found to be a mass of flames.

The building was rented by Messrs. Noel & McGinnis and used as a storage place for their hacks and provender. It was the property of Col. W. S. Dehoney. The greater part of the original stable had been allowed to fall into decay and disuse, but the part burned was in fair condition and was sheathed with iron.

Owing to the narrow alleyway and the heat arising from the hay stored in the upper story of the building, it was a hard fire to fight, but was finally gotten under control.

Two fine hacks belonging to Noel & McGinnis were destroyed, one of them having only been in use a very short time. One hack was saved.

All the horses and vehicles in the livery stable adjoining were taken out as precautionary measures, and the frightened animals rushed down the streets in mortal terror.

One of the horses ran down the railroad track, on Broadway street, to the trotter over Wilkinson street, where it fell between the beams. The railroad men found him when a train came along. He was rescued from his bad position, and, strange to say, was uninjured.

The loss on the building was a small one, but that of the hacks and of the provender stored in the building amounted to several thousands of dollars.

The fire boys did fine work, considering the situation of affairs, and prevented what might have proved a very disastrous conflagration.

An old colored man by the name of Harrison Price slept in one of the rooms in the burned building, and it was feared, at first, that he had been burned to death, but he was found, later on, on the streets, not having come to bed.

When the old "Welsiger House" was running, on the ground now occupied by the Capital Hotel, the burned building was used as the stable for the horses of the guests of that famous hostelry. Later Mr. R. Campbell Steele (dearly deceased) rented and ran it as a livery and sale stable. Our earliest recollections of that part of the city are connected with that hotel and its stables, our father having brought us to the city from his country home and stopped with Mr. Steele.

In addition to the loss to the parties in interest at the place, the East Tennessee Telephone Co. had two cables burned in two, involving loss of trouble and expense.

There was but little insurance, if any.

DEATHS.

GLORE—In Louisville, on Sunday, Mrs. Bettie Glore, relict of the late Mr. Thos. Glore, of this city, aged 75 years.

Mrs. Glore was a good woman—a member of the Methodist Church. The remains were brought here on Tuesday morning and laid to rest by the side of her husband in our cemetery.

CHURCH—At Thorn Hill, on Saturday night, Mrs. Church, wife of Mr. Wm. Church, and about 80 years of typhoid fever.

Mrs. Church was a good woman—a member of the North Fork Baptist Church, at Switzer, this county. She leaves a husband, two children, and a large circle of relatives to mourn her death.

The remains were taken to North Fork Church on Monday morning, where the funeral services were conducted by Rev. B. P. Roach, after which they were laid away in the burying ground there.

HOLTON—At her home on East Main street, on Saturday, Mrs. Annie Rodd Holton, wife of Mr. Sandy Holton, aged about 22 years, of consumption.

Mrs. Holton was an estimable Christian young woman, popular with all who knew her. She had only been married a few short months. She was a member of the Christian Church. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. George Darsie from that Church, on Sunday afternoon, at 2 o'clock, and were largely attended.

The sympathy of a wide circle of friends goes out to the bereft.

UTTERBACK—At her home, on the Louisville pike, on Wednesday night, Mrs. Sallie T. Utterback, wife of Mr. W. C. Utterback, aged about 47 years, of a complication of diseases.

Mrs. Utterback was a splendid woman—gentle, tender, modest and retiring—the idol of her husband, revered and beloved of her children and friends. A Christian in whom there was no guile. For long years she had been a sufferer, yet she was the same cheerful and loving woman—devoted to her family, friends and the Church. She was a member of the Christian Church and exemplified her religion in her daily life and conduct.

When the great change came, she simply fell asleep in the full hope of a blessed resurrection, in that land where no sorrow, suffering or sin can ever come.

She leaves a brokenhearted husband, two sons and two daughters, and a large circle of relatives to mourn her untimely end.

The funeral occurred on Christmas Day at 1:30 o'clock, the services being conducted by Rev. George Darsie, of the Christian Church, with the interment in the Frankfort Cemetery.

To our loved and isolated friend (her husband and the sorely bereft family) we tender the sympathy of one who knows how to feel for them in their great sorrow.

HAPPY WOMEN.

Plenty of Them in Frankfort, and Good Reason for it.

Wouldn't any woman be happy. After years of backache suffering. Days of misery, nights of unrest. The distress of urinary troubles. She finds relief and cure?

No reason why any Frankfort reader Should suffer in the face of evidence like this:

Mrs. T. Thornton, wife of T. Thornton, barber, of 333 Short St. says: "A constant dull aching pain across the small of my back, caused by my kidneys, has annoyed me for years. On account of this and from the fact that my back has been so weak, I have not been able to do any hard work about the house at all. There was a constant irritation from the kidney secretions and they were irregular, unnatural and scalded. Dr. Ross's Kidney Pills were recommended to me so highly that I got a box at J. W. Gayle's drug store. They certainly helped me in every way. I felt better than I had in a long time, and I have no hesitancy in recommending Dr. Ross's Kidney Pills to any one suffering from kidney trouble of any kind."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-McMillan Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Duan's—and take no other.

WORTH OF ALL EXPERIENCE.

Can anything be worse than to feel that every minute will be your last? Such was the experience of Mrs. S. H. Newson, Decatur, Ala. "For three years I have written, 'I endured insufferable pain from indigestion, stomach and bowel trouble. Death seemed inevitable until I got Dr. Ross's Kidney Pills. At length I was induced to try Electric Bitters and the result was miraculous. Improved at once and now I'm completely recovered. For Liver, Kidney, Stomach and Bowel troubles Electric Bitters is the only medicine. Trial Size, 50c. It's guaranteed by all druggists."

HOW TO PREVENT CROUP.

It will be good news to the mothers of small children to learn that croup can be prevented. The first sign of croup is hoarseness. A day or two before the attack the child becomes hoarse. Give Chamberlain's Cough Remedy freely as soon as the child becomes hoarse, or after the rough cough appears, and it will dispel all symptoms of croup. In this way all danger and anxiety may be avoided. This remedy is used by many thousands of mothers and has never been known to fail. It is, in fact, the only remedy that can always be depended upon and that is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by all druggists.

PEA RIDGE.

(Delayed Letter.)

Miss Katie Suter is improving rapidly, which gives great pleasure to her many friends.

Mrs. Frank Stoops has returned to her home in Indiana, after a two week's visit to her parents, Mr. Jno. Edge and wife.

Rumors of three weddings of popular young couples are in the air and the wave of matrimony will again extend even as far as Pea Ridge.

Mr. J. A. Edge, of Lexington, was the guest of his parents last Sunday. He was most cordially greeted by those of his old schoolmate whom he met.

Miss Edith Edge and brother were the guests of Miss Naomi Clark one evening this week.

Mrs. Mattie Clipper and daughter, Miss Laura, also Mrs. Fannie Collins and daughter, and Mrs. Winifred Lacerfeld were the guests of Miss Edith Edge last Sunday evening.

Miss Kate Suter was able to make her first trip out last Friday, after nearly two months' serious illness. Needless to say her first visit was to her friend and companion, Miss Edith Edge, who was delighted to entertain her little friend once more.

People having ice houses are now filling them with nice clear ice.

Mr. John Woods, who bought and resides on the Metheny place, is seriously ill.

School was closed last evening. It has been very cold this last two weeks for the little ones to trudge through the ice and snow, and some have quite a distance to travel before reaching their destination. We are sorry to lose our sociable young teacher from the neighborhood, but maybe next term we may be lucky enough to get her again to teach our little ones.

The good people of Chautauque are expecting to have a Christmas tree for their Sunday-school scholars. This is as it should be. Let all the people, young and old, join in trying to have a good tree for the expectant little ones. Mrs. John Dennis will be glad for the young ladies to help her in decorating the tree. Everybody invited to meet at Sunday-school, next Sunday evening and make final arrangements as to when and where, etc.

Little Frankie Edge is being considerably jollied over his being fined for shooting a hawk, which had been pecking his own and neighbor's chickens. The following are samples: "Hello, Frankie, heard you were paying $3 a piece for hawks. You can come over on my place and I'll let you shoot all the hawks and owls you want to for nothing." "Law's a mercy, Marsa Frank, what for they fining folk for shooting hawks? If you can't shoot hawks, what on earth the cuffed people go to do for June meeting and the preachers?" From yet another: "Now, Marsa Frank, let this be a lesson to you. When you get to be a man vote for the log cabin, den Democrats don't fine folks for shooting pesky hawks."

On hearing of Little Frankie Edge being fined for shooting a hawk, an individual that is in controversy, and is to be yet passed on in the future, the following gentlemen heartily and generously and sympathetically invited the little fellow to hunt on their farms, which are almost adjoining that of his parents: Mr. William Wheeler, Mr. J. W. Tracey, Mr. William C. Miller, Mr. Taylor Collins, Mr. Sheets, Mr. George Herndon and several others. One of his lady neighbors went out so far in her sympathy as to send him quite a number of cartridges so he could kill more hawks. While we would not and do not believe in upholding a child in wrong doing, we do believe in defending an innocent school boy from being the instrument or butt for those who have a spite against older members of the family, whom, for some reason, they do not attack, wreaking their petty spite on school children and using the Commonwealth as their instrument so as not to cost themselves anything. SCRIBE.
